V	DayEnd

Your day ends will typically fail for one of the following reasons:

- The company password has changed.
- The windows account that runs the day end process has been logged out. (Typically after a server reboot)
- The automated log out script has failed and users are logged into the system.
- The servers were off line.
- Users logged into the system after the logout script ran.

We will communicate the reason for the failure to you but should your day ends fail for one of the following reasons. Please action accordingly:

- Notify us when the company password changes.
- Log the day end windows account back in specifically after server reboots.
- Notify your users not to log on during the day end run. (Please contact us should you need confirmation of the times of the day end run.)

Should any of the day ends have failed for the below reasons we will investigate and validate:

- The automated logout script failures.
- Where servers were offline we will confirm with you if they are connecting again.
